GOV. SLATON NOW NAME NEW SENATOR UNTIL NEXT WEEK

Says "It Is No Fable to Be Determined in an Hour or a Day"—Hasn't Set Exact Date for Announcement

BOIFEUILLET IN ATLANTA BUT HE REFUSES TO TALK

Impression Continues That the Plum Will Go Either to Clark Howell, Boifeuille or Some Savannah Man

The appointment of a United States senator for the district of Georgia, now vacant by the death of the late Senator Howell, will not be announced by Governor Slaton, nor will it be announced Sunday or Monday, it was learned today from the governor's office. Slaton is going to dismiss the subject from his mind until he has decided upon a candidate. He is going to take his time and will not be determined in an hour or a day, he said. "It is a high honor, and I shall give it the consideration it should receive before finally determining it."

The impression continues, despite the fact that the plum hangs suspended between Clark Howell, John T. Boifeuille and W. C. C. Watson, that the plum will go either to Clark Howell, Boifeuille or Some Savannah Man. This impression is based on the fact that the plum has been in the hands of the governor for some time, and it is believed that he will not be determined in an hour or a day.

GOVERNOR SLATON HAS BEEN ADVISED THAT THE PLUM WILL GO EITHER TO CLARK HOWELL, BOIFEUILLET OR SOME SAVANNAH MAN. THIS IMPRESSION IS BASED ON THE FACT THAT THE PLUM HAS BEEN IN THE HANDS OF THE GOVERNOR FOR SOME TIME, AND IT IS BELIEVED THAT HE WILL NOT BE DETERMINED IN AN HOUR OR A DAY.

NEW REFORMS URGED BY COMMISSIONERS FOR PRISON REFORMS

Sanitary Improvements to Be Recommended at Meeting of Board of Commissioners to Be Held Next Week

MANY APPLICANTS WANT PLACES OF DONALDSONS

Two Commissioners Will Fight for Present Incumbents to Retain Their Positions as Prison Officials

Even more reforms in the nature of sanitary improvements of the county convict camps than were recommended by the board of county commissioners at its special meeting next week, according to members.

Definite information, except that there is to be a fight, is lacking, however, on the board's attitude towards the recommendation that the two Donaldsons be eliminated from the public works department.

Numerous applications have been received by the five members of the commission from friends of various candidates who would be willing to take the place of either of the Donaldsons.

IT IS FIGHT ON DONALDSONS. The fight on Donaldsons, Captain T. J. Donaldson, superintendent of paving construction, and S. H. Donaldson, superintendent of public works, is being fought by the board of county commissioners.

are the hair particles but Dr. Harris stated that he also made an examination for color by placing blood on the hair he had cut from Mary Phagan's head together and as many of the hair samples from the collector's had together as he had, about eight or ten in all.

Dr. Harris said he obtained a good idea of the color of both samples in that way, and that at the time it was obvious to him that there was a difference in shading.

Following his report to the collector, said Dr. Harris, he gave him back the pieces of hair that had not been used. The particles placed under the microscope, he still has, he says, and can find them and produce them if needed.

Dr. Harris says that there is no other method of distinguishing between hair more inflexible than the one he employed. While it proved to him conclusively, he said, that the two samples of hair were entirely different, he would not like to swear to such a statement.

The following is the full petition of P. P. Barrett asking for the one thousand dollar reward offered by the council for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the murderer of Mary Phagan:

"To the Honorable Mayor and General Council of the City of Atlanta:

"The petition of Barrett, the following facts:

"That he is a resident of the City of Atlanta, living at 145 West North Avenue.

"That he furnished the information leading to the arrest of the person guilty of the murder of Miss Mary Phagan.

"That on the 25th, 26th and 28th days of April, 1913 he was in the employ of the National Trust company, 5 Forsyth street, City of Atlanta.

"That he was at the time of the murder of Miss Mary Phagan, and was the operator of the lathe machine in the pencil factory and when he stopped working on the evening of April 25, 1913, he left an unfinished job on the lathe. He did not return to work at the factory on the following morning.

"That on the 26th of April, 1913, for the morning he returned to the factory for the purpose of resuming his work at the lathe. Upon going to the machine he discovered ten or twelve long hairs that came from Miss Mary Phagan's head still hanging to the handle of the lathe; he also first found blood spots in the metal department on the second floor of his factory. The blood spots were on the strand of Miss Mary Phagan's hair were some fifteen feet apart.

"That he immediately reported the matter to Messrs. Darley and Lemmle Quinn. The findings and the facts were brought to Mr. Darley's attention. He called the detective department and immediately Detectives John Black and John Starnes came to the factory and Mr. Barrett, the petitioner herein, gave the strand of hair to Detective Black and showed them the blood spots in the metal room. During this day Mr. Leo Frank was arrested and carried to the station house in the city of Atlanta.

"It was upon these clues which brought to the attention of the officers of the law that the crime of murder had not been committed in the basement of the factory, as first thought by the negro watchman, who has since been exonerated of the crime, but was committed on the second floor of the factory, where Mr. Frank's office as superintendent of the factory was.

"At the trial of the case of Leo Frank in the superior court of Fulton county the petitioner appeared as a witness and testified to the finding of the hairs and the blood spots on the second floor of the factory.

"Leo Frank was tried and convicted of the murder of Miss Mary Phagan on the 25th day of April, 1913.

"The Supreme court of the state of Georgia has passed on his motion for new trial and that honorable court has refused to grant him a new hearing on the case.

"The present judge of the superior court of the criminal division will soon pass on the motion for new trial for the murder of Miss Mary Phagan.

"On the 28th day of April, 1913, this honorable council and mayor passed the following resolution:

"Council chamber, Atlanta, Ga. Resolved by the Council and Mayor: That the sum of $1000 be and the same is hereby offered for information leading to the arrest of the person or persons guilty of the murder of Miss Mary Phagan, which murder was committed on the night of April 25, 1913, in the city of Atlanta, and that the above sum shall be taken from the contingent fund.

"Adopted by council April 30, 1913.

"Conferred in by aldermanic board April 10, 1913. Approved April 20, 1913, by James G. Woodward, mayor.

"The petitioner as a person who furnished the information that led to the

WOMAN SHOT TO DEATH BY JEALOUS SALESMAN

Carl Kinlock, Kills Another Woman in Restaurant

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21.—Frenzied through jealousy, the police say, Carl Kinlock, an automobile salesman, went into a restaurant today and killed one waitress there seriously injured another with whom he had been infatuated. He turned the revolver on himself with probable fatal effect.

The restaurant is in the heart of the retail shopping district. Kinlock suddenly rose from a table and began shooting at Ora Griffin, to whom he had been attentive. A bullet struck her in the side, but she kept on shooting at her as she ran toward the door and was struck in the back of the head by a bullet.

"She got all I have, and I might as well go to the jail and shut myself through this lunge," he said.

The Phillips woman, who did not know Kinlock, died in a few minutes. Kinlock made this statement to the police:

"I am a divorced man. I met this Griffin woman last summer. I saw her last night with another man. I asked her to come to my room. She refused. I told her I would shoot her if she did not explain. I became crazy. I knew when she flouted me before every body."

Arrest and final conviction of Leo Frank respectfully submit his claim to the sum stated in the foregoing paragraph and asks that this honorable body may aid him.

"LAWSON NALLEY, attorney."

CONLEY MOORE PLEADED GUILTY. William M. Smith, attorney for the negro Jim Conley, declares that not only the criminal division of the court for his client, when he is arranged in the criminal division of the court next week, but he confidently expects the verdict of the jury to be a charge of being accessory after the fact of Mary Phagan's murder.

"Conley," says Attorney Smith, "is not guilty under the charge in either of the two indictments against him, but I am going to demonstrate that to the full satisfaction of the judge and the jury when his case is called. Of course there is nothing for me to do except to admit the court record of Conley's statements at the trial, which includes his admission that he carried the body of Mary Phagan from the second floor to the basement of the factory. But that does not make him guilty as an accessory under the two indictments against him."

TWO INDICTMENTS. There are two indictments against Conley, one charging a misdemeanor and the other a felony.

The petitioner general has consistently refused to say whether he will prosecute Conley under the felony or under the misdemeanor indictment. In the felony case the extreme penalty is three years in the chain-gang, and one year in the misdemeanor case.

The case against Conley is the first one on the published calendar for the session of the superior court, which commences next Monday morning and lasts through Friday of next week. It is possible, however, that the case will not be reached until the latter part of the week.

The hearing of the case is not expected to consume much of the court's time. The hearing will consist mainly of argument on legal points, as the facts which the state will seek to prove will be admitted by Conley's attorney.

DEAD FEELING ALL THE TIME

Bad Condition of Arkansas Lady, Who Finally Overcame Her Trouble

Board Camp, Ark.—Mrs. Virginia Jackson, of this town, gave out the following statement for publication: "When I was just fifteen years old, I suffered dreadfully with a cramp in my stomach, about once a month, and I had dead feeling all the time—no life to do anything."

I took two bottles of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I felt like a different person. I had tried all kinds of medicine for over a year, but nothing helped me, until I took Cardui.

A short time ago, I suffered again. I would ache and hurt, until I couldn't stand on my feet to do my work. My back ached and my head hurt all the time.

I was glad I knew about Cardui. I took three bottles and now I never have any ache or pains, and I am cheerful and happy.

Ladies, let's take one another's advice and not suffer so much. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It's a wonderful medicine.

If you have wondered where you could find a remedy to ease your pain and relieve the torment which goes with so many forms of womanly trouble—here is your answer!

Take Cardui, the woman's tonic, and be relieved. As Mrs. Bain was.

MARRIAGE NOTICE "PEEVES" HUSBAND

When Wedding Became Public She Deserted Wife.

As long as their runaway marriage was kept a secret her husband was devoted according to the petition for divorce filed in the superior court Saturday by Mrs. Ellen Weaver Bryan, but just as soon as the news was published, he left the boarding house where he had been living and went to the home of another woman, whom she names as co-respondent.

She was married to Leland Bryan, the wife asserts, on July 2, 1912, and it was several months before she knew of his desertion.

Then, according to the wife, her parents insisted that Bryan furnish a home and take her there.

Instead, she asserts, he immediately removed his belongings from a very respectable boarding house, where he had been, and went to live with a woman, whom the wife characterizes as a "notorious character."

The wife prays for divorce and alimony.

Attorney Kemper and Weaver filed the suit.
